THURSDAY, JULY 26, 1889.

MT. STERLING MUSS.

The Mt. Sterling Democratic gathering which protested against the action of the Louisville convention, as reported in The Sun Tuesday, was as stated by reliable correspondents, attended by some 600 Democrats from that state and county and so largely signed by the protesting Democrats of the county named something like one thousand putting their names to the papers, said as follows:

The Sun prints the petition because no Democratic paper in this section seems to have independence enough to give their readers the news as it is found.

Whereas, The convention called by the regularly constituted authorities of the Democratic party was never called from its true purpose by the arbitrary insatiable of delegates by fraud and corrupt brigades, and by unright and unrepresented acts of Unfair Repub., and,

Whereas, In the opinion of Democrats of Kentucky, there has been no ticket nominated entitled to their support, now, we, the undersigned Democrats of Warren County, hereby call a mass meeting, to be held on Monday, July 24, 1889, at 1 o'clock p.m., at the courthouse in Bowling Green, to take steps for the nomination of a true Democratic ticket, and that effect shall be given to the thus-named principle of Democracy that the will of the majority of the people shall rule, and that they shall not be compelled to submit to the arbitrary or accidental chairman of committees or conventions."

The movement therefore was not one of protest alone but one of consequence.

The resolution passed, which the Democratic press generally is ignoring, was as follows, and they speak for themselves:

Resolved, That we urge the Democrats of each county in the state to meet at once and appoint from one to three prominent, loyal Democrats to meet with those appointed by this meeting, at Lexington, Ky., on August 2, to consult and agree upon the propriety of calling a convention of the Democracy of the state to nominate Democratic candidates to fill the state offices at the election next November, with the power to call such a convention and to name the time and place, and to name a temporary chairman to organize said convention and the place, number of holding committee, meetings to appoint delegates to the convention, and to provide for all the organization necessary and proper for holding the same.

Resolved, That we invite prudent, discreet and temperate Democrats in each county to write to the party press in Louisville the extent of the dissatisfaction of their respective counties, comparing their respective governments, and ought not to be contended by electing the vote of the appealing court and thus furnish to the next meeting at Lexington, on August 2, 1889, data on which to base intelligent action, and we ask them to base their estimates upon the state of feeling that will exist at the November election.

Resolved, That we insist that, according to the true principle of Democracy, the Democrats of each voting precinct have the right to and should select their members of the county committee and the members thereof so selected have the right to and should select their own chairman.

And we urge them to proceed to do so, notwithstanding the fact a resolution to this effect reported to the state convention was suppressed by order of Senator Gobell, (to be,)

We hereby appoint M. S. Tyler, S. S. Priest, H. H. Kinsey, Jas. R. Shultz and Thomas Turner to represent us in the meeting at Lexington above mentioned. We request the Democratic press of this city and of the state to publish the proceedings of this mass meeting.

Commenting on this meeting the Louisville Post says:

The Mt. Sterling meeting, in character, in numbers and in its purposes, is a most important gathering.

It comes to the Geobetites with a shock that must destroy their confidence in their own newspapers.

The readers of the Evening Post know that there is within the Democratic party profound dissatisfaction with the Gobell conspiracy and that it offers no compensation to the traveling public in order to redress the great material growth of our community.

Louisville Post: "Mr. Gobell may well expect to change the issue, and drag the L. and N. into the fight.

That is a matter between him and it.

The Courier Journal joins itself in the war on the L. and N., the L. and N. can bring both Gobell and Hattie to their knees without much trouble.

But the people are not to be diverted from the issue, political fraud forced into the campaign by Gobell himself. The people intend to vote, they intend to vote against Gobell, and they intend to have their votes counted, if they have to go to the polls armed with shotguns, the sole right of terror is over."

This is simply the first gun. Next week Warren county and Jefferson will be heard from, and all the indications point to a new ticket that will represent the masses of the Democratic party as faithfully as the Gobell ticket represents the bosses."

The Lexington Herald also says:

"We need not call attention to the proceedings of the Democratic meeting held in Montague county on yesterday, or to the terrific arraignment of the action of the committee on credentials, Judge Rawlins, the mayor of Louisville and his police and those who induced him to thus use

Kentucky speakers, for they will speak at this—and forcibly—the action of all citizens, and will provide a profound and increasing interest. This meeting can neither be ignored, snuffed down or denigrated with impudence. The men, whose names are given, stand too high both as gentlemen and Democrats to permit their statements to be ignored or their recommendations left to the neglect of the rest of the world.

The rest of the world is not so
